DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-4, drawn to method of inspecting a display device substrate, classified in class 324, subclass 770.
 - II. Claims 5-10, drawn to method of inspecting a display device substrate, classified in class 324, subclass 770.
 - III. Claims 11-14, drawn to apparatus for inspecting a display device substrate, classified in class 324, subclass 770.
 - IV. Claims 15-22, drawn to apparatus for inspecting a display device substrate, classified in class 324, subclass 770.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions III-IV and I-II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case different product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product as claimed in Group I and II.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Groups I, III is not required for Groups II, IV restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

3. Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because of shorting the ESD protection device. The subcombination has separate utility such as claimed.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group II is not required for Group I, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Inventions IV and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because of shorting the ESD protection device. The subcombination has separate utility such as claimed.

Art Unit: 2829

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group IV is not required for Group III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. This application also contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

- a) Species of fig. 4-5,
- b) Species of fig. 6-7 and
- c) Species of fig. 8-9.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims appear to be generic.

If applicant elects Species of fig. 4-5, further election of species (sub-species) is required as follows:

- 1) Shorting the signal wiring as defined at paragraph 0052,
- 2) Selectively shorting the signal wiring as defined at paragraph 0058.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims appear to be generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

6. A telephone call was made to the Office of Mr. Eller on 11/30/2004 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
